

Women Mean Business awards

 Women In Business magazine, in association with O₂, yesterday launched the second annual Women Mean Business conference and awards.

Designed to recognise the achievements of Ireland's businesswomen, the five awards will be presented in tandem with the conference on September 29th.

"The event recognises the vital contribution women make to Irish business and society," the managing director of WMB Publishing, Rosemary Delaney, said yesterday. The closing date for entries is July 28th.
